At White Court School, we follow the Essex Agreed Syllabus and aim to provide all children with a high-quality religious education which reflects the religious traditions in Great Britain. This is mainly Christian but also takes into account the teachings and practices of the other principal religions represented in Great Britain. Through R.E., children develop: self-awareness, a respect for all, open mindedness and appreciation and wonder.

In Key Stage 1 pupils are taught to become aware that people in Britain and across the world adhere to many different religions.

In Key Stage 2 pupils are taught to recognise the impact of religion and belief locally, nationally and globally.
